PROFILE

I create technological experiences that give value through user experience, elegant design and thoughtful development.
I believe that the best design gets out of the user's way and that you can craft unforgettable user experiences by keeping things simple and obsessing over the details.

EXPERIENCE

The Wired Mouse | Asheville NC, March 2014 - present
I work as a cross between developer and designer. Creating logos, full site designs, business cards, you name it.
Drupal and Wordpress development and theming.

Ampleheights | Johnson city, TN 2012 - present
A web development and design company that I operate in my spare time. I design brands and websites for businesses and individuals

Freelance | Various, 08 - 12
I spent several years freelancing in my local community.
